

Ask Justice Dept. Explain Secret Papers

House Probers Tell McGrath to Give Reason for Refusal

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators demanded an on-the-spot explanation from Atty. Gen. McGrath today for Justice Department refusal to open up its records to them.

The situation contained the elements of a new and explosive contest between the Truman administration and a committee of Congress digging into charges of corruption and irregularities in government.

Rep. Chelf (D-Ky.), chairman of a special judiciary subcommittee investigating McGrath, threatened to use the subpoena powers of Congress or go directly to the President.

Chelf's statement came last night following a hastily called committee session to consider a letter from Assistant Atty. Gen. Joseph C. Duggan, acting for McGrath, contending the committee was exceeding its powers.

It caught the committee by surprise. After a three-hour huddle, Chelf announced that McGrath will be called on to "explain more fully why he cannot comply with the committee's request."

The committee last month requested the department to list cases submitted in the past six years by other federal agencies which were quashed, prosecution refused, or returned. It also requested a record of cases in which no action has been taken in the last year.

A similar request was made of other federal agencies and departments. Chelf told newsmen that the Justice Department was the only agency which has refused to comply.

There was a possibility, he said, the Justice Department misunderstood the committee's request. What was wanted, he declared, was a "statistical list" of cases and not the case records themselves.

Duggan's refusal was based in part on the contention it would mean digging into voluminous files covering half a million cases. That, he contended, would impose an "intolerable burden" on the department.

To Trade Eye for Eye

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP)—Omar Aaron, 49-year-old tree surgeon, today put new meaning into the adage "An eye for an eye."

He received one last week—via a cornea transplant—and he'll give one when he dies.

"That's the least I can do," he said. "The other man did it for me."

Shorn Lamb

All the snow we've had since Saturday, so we've just learned, is the wool shorn from the meek lamb that usually is March at its beginning. Today, with plenty of sunshine, cleared away some of the remaining ice, but the temperatures did not cooperate with Old Sol and not all the snow was melted.

WARMER TOMORROW

Central Missouri: Partly cloudy tonight and Friday with slowly rising temperatures. Low tonight near 25 and high Friday 40-45.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 19 degrees above zero; 36 at noon and 38 at 2 p. m.

Lake of the Ozarks: 10.6, no change.

OFFICIALLY REOPEN MISSOURI PACIFIC PASSENGER STATION—C. F. Dougherty, of Kansas City, general manager of the western division, Missouri Pacific, clips the red ribbon signifying the reopening of the Sedalia Mo-Pac passenger station which was recently streamlined and modernized. The ceremony took place at 2:30 p. m. More than 1,800 persons attended the "open house" from 2:30 until 5 p. m.

1,800 Attend 'Open House' Mo-Pac Opens New Station Here Wednesday Afternoon

The Missouri Pacific Railroad officially reopened its 'new look' passenger station in Sedalia with appropriate ceremonies Wednesday afternoon. More than 1,800 persons attended the "open house" from 2:30 until 5 p. m.

At 2:30 J. F. Downs, division freight and passenger agent with headquarters in Sedalia, who acted as master of ceremonies, opened the brief program held on the station platform. From a decorated rostrum Downs first introduced Mayor Herb Studer, who gave a brief talk in which he stated he was pleased to see the Missouri Pacific was watching the strides of progress in Sedalia, praised the railroad for modernizing its passenger station, a welcome addition to new structures in Sedalia. Mayor Studer also said he hoped Sedalians would continue their business with the Missouri Pacific to justify the railroad's interest in this evidence of progress.

Cunningham Gives Welcome
Jack Cunningham, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was introduced and gave a short welcoming talk.

C. F. Dougherty, general manager of the western district, Kansas City, of which Sedalia is a part was introduced and gave a brief talk, as did W. H. A. Turner, assistant traffic manager.

A. L. Becker, chief architect of the Missouri Pacific, was introduced. Becker designed the remodeling of the station and was in charge. Becker turned the key to the station to Dougherty, who then walked from the rostrum, to the entrance of the station. Here he cut a red ribbon officially designating the reopening.

Brewster 'Calls Truman Bluff', Dares Him to Ask Reelection

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Brewster (R-Me.) today challenged President Truman to seek re-election, saying, "It's time to call his bluff."

Brewster, a supporter of Sen. Taft of Ohio for the Republican presidential nomination, made the statement in commenting on remarks attributed to Truman by Rep. Bryson (D-SC).

Bryson and Rep. Rivers (D-SC) conferred with the President yesterday and Bryson said afterward:

"The President said that if he were sure that Taft would not get the Republican nomination and would not get elected if he got it, he (Truman) would know what to do himself about running. He indicated he would support any Democratic to beat Taft."

Brewster said the statement Bryson attributed to Truman represented "an obvious attempt by the President to influence the Republican nomination at a critical time."

The Maine senator made it clear "critical time" alluded to New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation presidential primary next Tuesday, a contest in which Taft and Gen.

Deadlock In Truce Tightens

Talks Bog Down Further as Reds Insist Russia Serve as Neutral

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The deadlock Korean truce talks bogged down even further today as Communist negotiators insisted that neutral teams including Russians be permitted to inspect secret equipment during an armistice.

Staff officers working on truce supervision wrangled fruitlessly for more than an hour, but the prisoner exchange subcommittee called it a day after only 12 minutes, negotiators agreed there was no point in rehearsing old arguments.

The deadlock has become so serious observers here said they believe only action at the top level could end the stalemate.

U.N. negotiators declined to speculate on how the deadlock might be broken. Some sources said the situation presumably is being studied carefully in Washington, and possibly in Moscow and Peking.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief U.N. negotiator, was in Tokyo Wednesday, apparently for conferences with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

There was no hint that a shift in the Allied position was in the offing.

Col. Don O. Darrow told newsmen the Communist demand for inspection of secret equipment might be "just another needling device." But he added:

"If they could get Russian teams down to look at our equipment, that would be highly desirable from their point of view."

The Allied proposal provides that neutral teams should make inspections to "properly insure" that neither side is introducing new equipment during a truce. However, the proposal specifies that the teams would not be allowed to check "secret designs or characteristics of any combat aircraft, armored vehicles, weapons or ammunition."

The Reds said the U.N. was merely trying to block a thorough inspection.

Ease Controls On Building

Housing, School, Commercial, Road All Are Included

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today eased building controls on housing, commercial, highway and school projects.

The National Production Authority, dropping an earlier plan to limit the size of dwellings and restrict new homes to 1½ bathrooms each, issued:

1. A new, one-package housing order increasing by 500 pounds the steel which a home-builder may use without applying to NPA.

2. An order combining all other construction controls into a single document. It increases the tonnage of steel automatically allowed for commercial, school, and other smaller non-residential projects, as well as roads and highways.

As originally proposed, the orders were intended to curb construction. But they were revised frequently during two months of discussion with the construction industry. Meantime, shortages of steel and aluminum eased noticeably. NPA's announcement today said:

"Most of the changes in the construction regulations liberalize controls rather than tighten any of them or impose any further restrictions."

Most provisions of the new orders have been announced as agreements were reached with the construction industry. The major changes in the housing regulations, effective at once, include:

An increase to 2,300 pounds of steel per dwelling unit in the amount which may be "self-authorized"—that is, used without application to NPA for a quota. The quantity is increased proportionately for two-family, three-family and four-family buildings.

A decrease of 25 pounds of copper to a total of 135 pounds per dwelling unit, for housing equipped with copper water piping systems. However, copper usage is increased where local building codes require that metal in underground connections.

Aluminum may be substituted for copper in wiring, one pound of aluminum may replace two pounds of copper.

For alterations or enlargement of existing dwellings, builders may use up to half the materials which are permitted for new dwellings. The non-residential controls follow a similar pattern.

Butter Prices Here Drop 5½ to 10 Cents

Butter prices appear to be on a decline in Sedalia.

A quick survey of nine local grocery stores today showed drops of from 5½ to 10 cents per pound in five of the stores. Others reported their weekly butter shipments have not arrived, but indicated they expected a price cut when the shipments are received.

Ike Promises Yank to Lead Greek Armies

Agreement Reported After NATO Chief Visits In Nation

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Greek sources reported today Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has agreed that only an American officer will command Greek armies assigned to North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces.

This tentative agreement was reported after the NATO supreme commander conferred at length with Lt. Gen. Theodore Grigoropoulos, chief of the Greek national defense staff. Eisenhower arrived yesterday for conferences with Greek leaders after two days of talks in Turkey. Turkey and Greece are new members of NATO.

Tomorrow Eisenhower is scheduled to fly to Rome for a 2-hour conference with Italian generals who had insisted that Lt. Gen. Nario Castiglione, Allied land force commander in NATO's southern command, should command all land forces in the area regardless of nationality.

The Greeks insisted it would be embarrassing to submit Greek troops to the command of an Italian general because they defeated the Italian invasion attempt in the last war.

This Turkish command question was debated at last month's NATO meeting in Lisbon. The council decided to leave all the details of fitting Greek and Turkish forces into NATO up to Eisenhower.

Another touchy problem facing Eisenhower in Greece is the lack of money to maintain present Greek military strength.

The Greek staff reportedly told Eisenhower today the cost of keeping 10 divisions ready for combat, plus the price of expanding naval and air forces, is a punishing burden.

The Greeks said 44 per cent of their 550 million dollar budget for the year ending next June 1 goes to defense, and that defense spending amounts to 12 per cent of the Greek national income. They contended this is one of the highest defense spending ratios of any NATO member.

NATO executives agreed last month that in the next fiscal year the United States plans to spend 17.6 per cent of its national income for defense, Britain 12.8 per cent and France 11 per cent. West Germany has been asked to pay 10.5 per cent.

Eisenhower was believed to have told the Greeks that spending decisions are up to NATO civilian agencies and that a NATO committee, like W. Averell Harriman's temporary council committee, would visit Greece soon to study her ability to contribute to NATO mutual defense costs.

Slaughter Will Run for Senate

Announces Plans After Touring Most of Missouri

KANSAS CITY, March 6 (AP)—Roger C. Slaughter, the Missouri congressman who was purged by President Truman in 1946, announced today he will seek the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator.

The 46-year-old attorney who served two terms from the Fifth district (Kansas City) told a press conference he had decided to run for the senate after a month of conference with local party leaders in the state.

He is the second to enter the race. The first was Attorney General J. E. Taylor. There have been reports that W. Stuart Symington, who resigned last month as head of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, might run, and speculation that President Truman might seek the post again in the event he does not run for re-election.

Slaughter in a statement said he would file his formal declaration as a candidate tomorrow in Jefferson City.

He reported that he had made a personal survey throughout counties, including the strongly Democratic river counties which include the Little Dixie area of Missouri.

Slaughter said he had found that the voters of Missouri favor a foreign policy best calculated to protect this country; that they feel our government's expenditures excessive.

They do not believe there is any excuse for any further taxation and "they are demanding action with respect to faithless public employees, and are frank to say that they will not support those concerning whose basic integrity they had any doubt, nor those who condone or attempt to cover up corruption in office," he said.

Pinay Confirmed As French Premier In Switch of Votes

PARIS (AP)—Antoine Pinay was confirmed as premier of France today by a dramatic switch of votes in the National Assembly.

The conservative businessman-politician squeaked through with 324 votes, nine more than the bare minimum needed. There were 206 votes against him.

More than a score of votes in his favor came from followers of Gen. Charles De Gaulle.

The De Gaulleists bolted a party decision to refrain from voting. Pinay, 60, must still find a cabinet and obtain a vote of confidence in the National Assembly before he can begin governing.

Redistricting Referendum Being Sought

GOP Hopes to Get Signers to Force Election on Bill

JEFFERSON CITY, March 6 (AP)—Missouri's congressional redistricting muddle enters a new phase today. You might call the current chapter "The Republicans race against time."

Chapter one was the "big legislative battle," climaxed by final passage of a hotly debated bill to split Missouri's districts from 13 to 11, as required by the 1950 census.

Chapter two was "the governor's inning." It ended yesterday with Gov. Forrest Smith signing the bill, the next to the last day he had to sign it.

He waited until late afternoon but heard nothing from his plea to legislative leaders to get together on a compromise.

Now the Republicans get the ball. They are trying to force a referendum election on the bill they call "a vicious gerrymander."

If they get enough petition signers before April 22—the date the new districts go into effect—they can block redistricting and force all congressional candidates this year to run at large.

They need more than 70,000 signatures, distributed in nine of the present 13 districts. Petitions already are being circulated.

Dissatisfied Republicans also have talked about attacking the new districts in a court test. They claim the bill signed yesterday is unconstitutional because the new districts are not compact, contiguous and equal in population.

Until the very last, the governor said he was hopeful leaders of both parties could get together on some compromise that might prevent an at large election.

The last time Missouri congressional candidates ran at large was 20 years ago, when the Pendergast machine in Kansas City helped sweep the entire delegation for the Democrats. Two years later the legislature set up the 13 districts now represented by Missouri's congressmen.

Doubt Aluminum Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman for the Aluminum Company of America expressed doubt today that company workers would support a strike solely on the union shop issue.

Morris' Role Aiding China Under Study

Partner Says He, Morris Were Counsel For Trading Corp.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Corruption Investigator Newbold Morris' role as a lawyer for Chinese Nationalists hauling goods to Communist China came under searching Senate study today.

Houston H. Wasson, Morris' law partner, was called back to give the Senate investigations subcommittee more details of the traffic.

Wasson testified yesterday he and Morris were lawyers—but not chief counsel—for China Trading and Industrial Development Corp., a Chinese Nationalist firm which, he said, delivered oil to the Reds, almost up to the start of the Korean fighting, and other goods until the war was six months old.

A committee aide said Wasson's testimony has made it certain that Morris himself will be called for questioning. Morris has said he wants to testify in reply to "innuendos" about his connection with profitable surplus tanker deals.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), a subcommittee member, said the group intends to try to find out why Chinese Nationalists, using tankers flying the U. S. flag, would haul oil to the Reds.

Wasson accepted as accurate evidence produced by the subcommittee that China Trading, through the New York shipping agency of Sieling & Jarvis, also sent or received 26 shipments of dry cargo goods in trade with the Reds between June, 1950, when the Korean War started, and mid-December, 1950.

Francis P. Flanagan, subcommittee counsel, said all 21 ships involved flew foreign flags, but that eight of them had been sold by the U. S. Maritime Commission from its war-surplus fleet.

Flanagan told Wasson that the day after the Treasury Department on Dec. 18, 1950, blocked all Chinese funds in this country, Sieling & Jarvis chartered the 21 dry cargo vessels to a British firm which Flanagan named as Lambert Bros., London.

"For all we know they may still be operating in trade with the Reds," Flanagan added.

In a raking examination of Wasson, Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) accused Morris of "complete, dishonest deception" for his role in the deal. Wasson hotly replied, "I can see nothing deceptive about it."

No Report Here Of MoPac Layoff

A reported layoff of 400 men at the Missouri Pacific shops in Sedalia has not been verified here today. No notice has been posted at the local shops for any layoff. The Democrat-Capital was told this afternoon.

In an article from Atchison, Kan., appearing in this morning's Kansas City Times, the report of a coming layoff of 400 men was given. The story did not quote an official of the company, but referred to a master mechanic in the Atchison shops.

Recent layoffs in the Sedalia shops have affected fewer than 400 men and many of these have found employment with the railroad or in other businesses. Only about 100 have applied for unemployment compensation.

Concentration of repair work at certain points, due to dieselization of the railroad, was given as the cause of the layoffs, including 121 men in Atchison.

Need It to Meet A Soviet Threat To Civilization, He Tells Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman asked a critical Congress today to vote every penny of his $7,900,000,000 new global foreign aid program to meet a Soviet threat against the "survival of civilization."

Tonight the President, fully aware of mounting congressional ire over foreign aid spending, will go on every major radio and television network to carry his plea to the people.

Talk of withdrawing to the Western Hemisphere "has momentary seductiveness," the President said, "because it would seem to relieve us of the contributions we are now making to collective defense."

Sees Policy as "Suicide"
But he said the adoption of such a policy would be a "mandate for national suicide."

He said the money he is asking for would be spent to send arms to America's Allies in Europe, to build up Allied nations in the Middle East and Far East, to help European countries manufacture their own arms, and to raise the living standards of Red-threatened nations in Africa and Asia.

Mr. Truman asked for the $7,900,000,000 in his budget message to Congress January 21. His total budget requests added up to $85,444,000,000.

Not a single dollar should be cut out of the proposed program, he said, lest this nation be guilty of a "false economy" of "too little and too late."

In a special 7,500-word message, Mr. Truman anticipated the attacks of critics and economy advocates. He built his argument for carrying on the Mutual Security Program around four basic reasons which he set forth in these words:

U.S. Depends Upon Others
"First, the plain fact is that we cannot achieve lasting security for ourselves except in association with other nations."

"Second, the funds provided by the United States under the Mutual Security Program are essential to the success of the common efforts we are making with other free nations for peace."

"Third, the funds thus invested by the United States will yield far larger returns, in terms of our own security, than if the same amount were used for our own defense establishment."

"Fourth, the cost of the Mutual Security Program, together with the much larger costs of our military services and other defense measure, are well within our economic capacity."

Expect a Tough Battle
Despite Mr. Truman's appeal, administration officials expected a tough, prolonged fight over the amount, especially over that part which would be spent to aid the economies of Allied nations in contrast to the billions which would be spent to furnish them guns, tanks and planes.

In his message the President repeated emphatically an American role of leadership of the "free world." He declared, "We must show the world that we can meet any crisis, and that temporary frustration will not drive us to panicky aggression or to ignominious retreat."

Even before the message reached the Capitol powerful opposition was building up among the lawmakers. The congressional leaders who must quarterback the program predicted it will be whittled down.

The President said that for the fiscal year beginning July 1 the total security programs he is sponsoring total about $4 billion dollars. He said the burden of this cost and what it means in cutbacks of civilian production "are clearly within our economic capacity." The sum covers appropriations proposed for the U. S. armed forces as well as for foreign countries.

More Debate on Being Too Small
If there is any question about the size of the $7,900,000,000 Mutual Security Program, he said, "it is not whether it is too large, but whether it is too small." He called it an amount "which will bring returns (in security) no other policy could hope to produce so economically."

"I would not counsel the Congress to spend one dollar more than is necessary to support our policy of peace," he said. "But there is no economy more false than that which is summed up in the tragic phrase, 'Too little and too late.' Such a policy risks the loss of our investment as well as our objective."

"It would be foolish and dangerous to withhold a dollar now at the risk of expending not just many times as many dollars, but human lives as well, a few years later."

Rejects Two Alternatives
The President rejected what he described as two alternatives—"deliberate war"—that is a war launched by the democracies to crush Russia—and the "policy of retreat" to the Western Hemisphere.

"The policy of premeditated and deliberate war," he said, "is one which no democratic or god-fearing people can for a moment entertain."

"The policy of retreat would deprive us of (Allied) armed forces which, if called upon to fight for the defense of their own countries, would at the same time be fighting for the defense of ours."

"It would require us to become a garrison state, and to impose upon ourselves a system of centralization."

Acquit Five Of Beating Negro Prisoner

JACKSON, Miss. (P)—A white jury took only 45 minutes to return a verdict of innocent in the civil rights trial of five Mississippi law officers accused of beating a handcuffed Negro prisoner.

Former Sheriff Robert E. Lee, 39, and four deputies were acquitted on all counts at the end of a two-day trial yesterday.

The trial was highlighted by conflicting versions of the whipping, Lee and the Negro, 25-year-old Murry Sunshine Gray, an Eighth Army truck driver flown here from Korea, both testified.

Lee said he whipped Gray with a "slap stick"—a leather strip about a foot long with a handle—when Gray tried to escape. Lee denied that any of the deputies took part in the whipping.

Gray testified he was forced to remove his clothes, was handcuffed to a pine tree, and was flogged to make him confess to a burglary.

The case started in July, 1950, when a filling station was burglarized in the small South Mississippi town of Magnolia. Gray, then a civilian, formerly had worked at the station and was arrested for questioning. The next day, Lee testified, Gray told him, "All right, I'll take you where the money is hidden."

Lee said he and the deputies drove Gray to a remote wooded area where the prisoner said the money was hidden. The deputies spread out to search the underbrush, Lee continued, while he remained with Gray.

The former sheriff said Gray made a break and ran about 50 to 75 yards before he could overtake him. They began fighting, Lee added, and he used the "slap stick" to subdue the prisoner.

Lee said he then handcuffed Gray to a tree, but denied the prisoner was flogged while helpless.

The defendants were acquitted of charges of beating the Negro and of conspiring to violate his civil rights.

The other defendants were J. J. Montfort, Nolen Wall and Andy Jones.

Mother Hangs Her 3 Children and Herself

ROSLYN HEIGHTS, N. Y. (P)—A Long Island mother hanged her three small children with their cowboy belts yesterday and then took her own life the same way.

Neighbors found the children hanging from the bed posts in their downstairs bedroom. Upstairs, the mother had used another cowboy belt to take her own life.

The victims were Mrs. Mary G. Klem, 30; Frank Jr., 6; Richard, 4, and Margaret, 13 months.

The father, Frank J. Klem, a draftsman, was working in New York City when the tragedy occurred.

Later, Klem told police his wife had been "acting nervous" and had threatened several times to take her life.

It was a one-cylinder, 12-horsepower "runabout." More than 1,500 were sold in the first year, representing one-sixth of all cars built by the industry in 1902. Boy Admits Killing Classmate, Girl 12

SMITHTOWN, N. Y. (P)—A 13-year-old boy was held in jail today, accused of killing a pretty classmate when she resisted his advances as they walked together.

Harold Lorentson, an honor student, was charged with first degree murder last night.

Suffolk County Dist. Atty. Lindsay R. Henry said the boy admitted in a signed statement that he killed 12-year-old Lydie Kitchner, who had sat next to him in a seventh grade class.

The brown-eyed girl's bruised body, the clothes in disarray, was found in a Long Island wooded area last Nov. 29. She had been strangled with her own scarf. Police questioned scores of her schoolmates.

Mechanical Detective Finds Baggage Smasher

WASHINGTON (P)—A mechanical Sherlock Holmes is being put on the trail of baggage smashers.

It's a miniature earthquake detector, fitted with a timing device which runs for seven days and a tape which record every jar and jolt. It will fit into any medium-sized package.

It has been tested successfully by an automobile manufacturer who wanted to run down the cause of breakage in mailed engine parts; by a manufacturer looking into shipping damage of his refrigerators, and by American Airlines.

Probe of State Dept. Loyalty Program Mapped

WASHINGTON (P)—Without even waiting to decide which committee will conduct it, senators mapped plans today for a full-scale investigation of the State Department's loyalty-security program.

Sen. McCarran (D-Nev) and Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said secretary of State Acheson will testify under oath at the inquiry.

The only question was whether the investigation will be made by the Senate internal security subcommittee or the appropriations subcommittee handling State Department funds. McCarran is chairman of both groups and Ferguson is a member of both.

Demands by McCarran and Ferguson for the inquiry followed Acheson's announcement that he had reversed the findings of the department's Loyalty-Security Board in the case of career diplomat Oliver Edmund Clubb.

The board found Clubb was a security risk, although there was no adverse finding as to his loyalty.

Acheson's action allowed Clubb to retire on pension.

Fuel Becomes Problem In Snowbound Town

NORTH RUSTICO, Prince Edward Island (P)—Horse-drawn sleighs and a tiny plane have supplied the food and medical needs of this snowbound Canadian coastal village but fuel has become a serious problem.

The last coal in the village, 200 pounds per household, was distributed Tuesday.

Colorfast articles should be washed separately so that no lint from light fabrics will cling to them.

Dirty Ragpicker Leaves $15,000 To Bank Teller

TORONTO (P)—Alvin Poser was a dirty, ragged, ragpicker who lived alone in squalor.

He used to bring money into a trust company for deposit and some of the employees there tried to avoid waiting on him. So he kept coming to George Ernest Buchanan, an executive of the company, who believed in "treating every customer as best I know how."

Buchanan said Poser came to the trust company in 1918 with $5,000. Aided by Buchanan's investment advice, it grew to $25,000.

The old ragpicker, aged 70, died 11 days ago. He left $15,000 to Buchanan, the will disclosed yesterday.

Red Subs In Caribbean

MOSCOW (P)—The Soviet press today ridiculed assertions by the government of the Dominican Republic that Soviet submarines have been sighted off the Caribbean island's coast, calling the report an "anti-Soviet fabrication."

Record Birth Total In US Last Year

WASHINGTON (P)—Preliminary figures indicate a record 3,833,000 births in the United States in 1951, the Public Health Service reported today. Previous high was 3,818,000 in 1947.

"Because of the small difference between the two figures, it is necessary to wait for final data for 1951 before determining whether 1951 is definitely the all-time high," the agency said in a news release.

The infant mortality rate dropped last year for the 15th straight year. The 1951 rate was 28.8 per 1,000 live births, contrasted with 47.4 in 1940 and 64.8 in 1930.

The national overall death rate last year was listed as 9.7 per 1,000, practically the same as for 1950.

Helen Sharp Is Bride Of C. Kraxberger

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Helen J. Sharp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sharp, Elmore, Kan., and Cletus Kraxberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kraxberger, Stover, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, Sunday, Feb. 24 at the Methodist church in Elmore.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Kendall before an altar setting of ferns, white gladioli and burning white tapers.

Proceeding the ceremony Mrs. Ivan Stricker, Iola, Kan., at the organ played a program of music which consisted of, "I Love You Truly", "Ave Marie" and "Clair de Lune". She was accompanied by Mrs. E. F. Sellman, Iola, Kan., who sang, "Through the Years", "With This Ring I Thee Wed" and "Because".

For her wedding the bride chose a street length dress of white wool crepe with a crown hat of navy net and white and matching shoes. She carried the same handkerchief her mother carried at her wedding thirty-five years ago. Her corsage was of red roses.

Miss Betty Tanner, Dodge City, Kan., the bride's only attendant, wore a royal blue crepe dress and gray accessories. Her corsage was pink roses.

Nathanael Kraxberger served his brother as best man. Robert Sharp and Bob Foster, Humboldt, Kan., Bill Votz, Dodge City, Kan., and Bob Blacksten, Independence, Kan., were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Sharp wore a blue crepe dress with navy accessories.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a dress of royal blue and pink and matching accessories. Both had corsages of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a wedding cake topped with love birds. Burning tapers in crystal holders were on either side.

Mrs. Frank Brinkman and Mrs. Robert Sharp, Humboldt, Kan., served. Miss Eunice Fischer, Kansas City was in charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Kraxberger is employed by the Commercial Investment Trust company and Mr. Kraxberger is the assistant cashier at the Fidelity Bank in Dodge City.

Following a trip to South Ozarks the couple will be at home in Dodge City.

PTA Council Urged to Work For School Fund

At a meeting of the Sedalia Parent-Teachers Council, Mrs. Kurman Riley, district P-TA president, urged all parents and teachers to contact their state senators and representatives on behalf of the $14 million appropriation for Missouri schools.

The money would come from the state's surplus fund and is included in the omnibus bill now before the legislature, Mrs. Riley said as she spoke at the meeting held Wednesday afternoon.

School boards need to know the money allowed them for a two-year period, Mrs. Riley said, and she quoted the state P-TA president, Mrs. Herman Engle, as saying "Children's needs won't wait." Mrs. Engle also asked all PTA members to work for the passage of the bill with the full $14 million apportionment.

Washington school was in charge of the council program and Mrs. Ralph Salmon presented Miss Eugenia Arnold, music teacher at Washington school, who introduced her pupils. Wayne Seavers played a violin solo and a mixed chorus of seventh graders sang "Garden Lullaby" and "Minka," a Russian folk song.

Mrs. Gib Owens announced the council had clothed 67 persons this winter and still has some clothing on hand.

The nominating committee was appointed with Mrs. Salmon as chairman, Mrs. Bill Morgan and Mrs. Henry Menefee, members.

Unit reports were given as follows: Mrs. Elmer Maune, Broadway; Mrs. Nelson Painter, Horace Mann; Mrs. Charles Poynter, Jefferson; Mrs. Addison Taylor, Mark Twain; Mrs. William Morgan, Whittier; Mrs. Ralph Salmon, Washington; Mrs. John Loague, Smith-Cotton.

Next month the meeting will be a luncheon at the Smith-Cotton cafeteria.

All Amateur Gardeners Alike

All amateur gardeners will get a chuckle out of the following bit of verse written by Mrs. Russell E. Peck, 1718 West Ninth, of Garden Club No. 9, for all have gone through the same experiences.

Each year when Spring appears to be so very close at hand
I find myself engrossed in plans to till the land
I seek out books and catalogues and literature by the score
Convinced am I that growing things is simple—to be sure!
Last Spring's failures are forgotten and once again I try
But I never seem to learn my thumb is not as green as I.

Easy Way To Make Hot Rolls

By Mrs. W. H. Eichholz
1622 West Broadway
Garden Club No. 3

I wonder if the Sedalia housewives know about the yeast-batter bread. Everybody enjoys the flavor of hot yeast rolls and coffee cake, but the housewife is busy, like everybody else, and often puts off till some other day the task of baking these delicious additions to the meal.

However, with the better method, they are as quick as making hot baking powder biscuits and will be a great help to women who want to work in their gardens as much as possible now that spring is just around the corner.

Here is the recipe:
ROLLS—Scald 1½ cups of milk, add and stir in 2½ tablespoons sugar, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ cup shortening. Cool to lukewarm.

Measure into bowl ¼ cup lukewarm water, 1 teaspoon sugar and sprinkle or crumble in 2 packages or cakes of Fleischmann's dry or compressed yeast. Let stand until dissolved (5 or 10 minutes for dry yeast). Stir, add lukewarm mixture. Add and stir in ¾ cup sifted all purpose flour. Stir only enough to dampen flour.

To make pan rolls fill a well greased muffin tin one-half full, cover with a clean towel. Let rise until double in bulk (about 35 minutes). Bake in hot oven about 20 minutes.

For STREUSEL COFFEE CAKE (Makes two) —Place batter in two well greased pie pans. Sprinkle with mixture ¼ cup margarine or butter, ¼ cup sugar, ½ cup all purpose flour, ¾ teaspoon cinnamon. Let rise and bake as hot rolls.

S. Combats Cattle Disease
SAIGON, Indo-China (AP)—The Mutual Security Agency of the United States recently dispatched veterinary supplies by airplane to Phnom Penh to combat an outbreak of "rinderpest" among Cambodian cattle and hogs. The disease, usually fatal to cattle, is believed to originate somewhere in the border strip between Cambodia and Thailand.

The African Violet Society of Missouri will hold its first annual state African Violet Show on March 22 at Marshall in the basement of the Methodist Church at 522 East Arrow.

The Missouri African Violet Society is the first state organization of its kind in the United States and was organized on Aug. 23, 1951. There are 16 charter members, three from Marshall, three from Kansas City, one from Maryville, three from St. Louis and six from Clay County.

House Warming For Oswalds

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Oswald and sons, Kenneth and Bobbie, Syracuse, were surprised Saturday night when a large number of relatives and friends dropped in for a house warming. Mr. and Mrs. Oswald moved into their new home the first of the week.

The evening was spent playing games and refreshments were served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Langkop and Delores; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Klein, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Klein, Buncheon; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Gander and family, Booneville; Mrs. Alverta Whiteside, Mr. and Mrs. Pete McMurtry, Jefferson City; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Klein, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Frank Klein, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Ray Klein, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Klein and daughters, Mrs. Altha Klein, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Anthony, Mrs. Joe Anthony and Wanda of Syracuse community.

Mr. and Mrs. Oswald received many gifts.

The following officers were elected at that first meeting and are still in office: Mrs. W. H. Odum of Marshall, president; Mrs. J. A. Ellington of Gashland, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Henry Bailey of Marshall, route 4, membership secretary; Mrs. Art Kensit, Marshall, treasurer.

This society was organized as a stepping stone between the local clubs and the African Violet Society of America. Such a few are able to attend the national conventions that it is the hope that the state society will give many African violet enthusiasts a chance to enjoy African violet before. It will help to become better acquainted with others in the state who share the hobby of raising African violets, and should stimulate more interest in local African violet clubs and help to tie them together with the national society.

The African Violet Society of Missouri is open to every African violet enthusiast with the membership fee being $1.00. This may

Taft to N. H. To Lead Drive For Primary

CONCORD, N. H. (AP) — Sen. Robert A. Taft entered New Hampshire today to lead the drive that his organization believes will set him firmly on the road to becoming the Republican nominee for President.

The New Hampshire primary is next Tuesday.

It is the nation's first primary, and it brings Taft and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower together in a battle, not only for New Hampshire's 14 GOP delegates, but for the majority of popular votes. The state this year, has a preferential section on the ballot, better known as the "popularity contest."

It is not binding on delegates to either the GOP or Democratic National Conventions. But neutral observers consider it supremely important for its bearing on the relative popular strength of Taft and Eisenhower, on the Republican side, and President Truman and Sen. Estes Kefauver, his challenger, on the Democratic side.

Taft's schedule calls for 21 appearances in the next three days.

The senator said in New Haven last night that he would be satisfied if he wins only four of the 14 GOP delegates. His backers, however, are looking to the preferential section of the ballot to give the real coup de grace to the Eisenhower movement. The reason is this:

Eisenhower has the support of practically all the state's prominent Republicans, including the governor, a congressman and several other highly popular leaders here. Hence, it is taken as a foregone conclusion that these men will win the big majority of delegate races.

But in the "popularity contest," the people vote directly for the prospective candidates themselves. Thus, the New Hampshire primary can throw a great deal of light on a big question:

Is the "grass-roots" sentiment for Eisenhower as strong as his backers have claimed?

The same situation, to a somewhat lesser degree, exists with respect to the President and Kefauver.

Soviet Has Budget Of Over $28 Billion

The company and union said their contract does not contain provisions for suspending outdoor work during bad weather, but that it was the practice to do so "when common sense dictated."

Morris to Stay On Job Despite Being 'Socked'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Newbold Morris, government corruption investigator, conferred for 15 minutes with President Truman today and made it clear afterward he is going to stay on the job despite the way he said he has been "socked" in Washington.

When he came out of the White House, Morris was asked by reporters whether he planned to resign.

"No," he said.

Morris expressed the view that he has been "socked" when a reporter asked how he compared his old foe, "Tammany Hall" with his treatment here in Washington.

"Up in New York, its sort of like a pillow fight," Morris said. "Down here they really sock you."

Morris gained some reputation as an advocate of clean government in political scraps with the Tammany Hall organization in New York.

Morris refused to say directly what he had discussed with President Truman, or even whether the President had sent for him, or he had asked for the appointment.

Leon Jouhaux, the anti-Communist French Labor leader.

Others nominated included two prominent Canadians—Lester B. Pearson, external (foreign) affairs minister and Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent.

Sir Benegal N. Rau, the Indian diplomat, and President Miguel Aleman Valdes of Mexico were among others who will be considered for the award, usually made in the fall.

Still others whose names were sent to the special committee of the Norwegian Parliament for consideration are Carlos P. Romulo, now the Philippine ambassador to the United States; Dr. Prof. Albert Schweitzer, the Alsatian medical philosopher, famed for his missionary work in Africa.

The award, worth 171,134 Swedish kroner ($33,000), will be presented in Oslo on Dec. 10, birthday of Dr. Alfred Nobel, Swedish inventor of dynamite, whose will provided the money for the award.

Cockrell was a circuit judge in Warrensburg and was a leader of dry Democratic forces in Missouri in 1898 and took up the practice of law. In 1904 he became Johnson county prosecutor and was re-elected to the office in 1906. He was elected circuit judge in 1916 and again in 1922.

In 1926 Cockrell entered the U. S. senatorial primary race against Harry B. Hawes, but was defeated. He is better known for his advocacy of court reform and was one of the first sponsors of the Missouri Association for Criminal Justice.

Curb on Bevan Sought to Keep Party Strength

LONDON (AP)—Worried Socialist leaders tried to decide at an emergency meeting today how to curb rambunctious Aneurin Bevan and keep him from splitting the Labor party wide open.

Bevan, 54-year-old left-winger, who wants to be Prime Minister if Britain has another Socialist government, led 56 other Laborites in open defiance of party leader Clement Attlee's voting instructions in the House of Commons last night.

Their defection let Winston Churchill's Conservative government beat down a Labor "no confidence" motion by a startling 95-vote majority instead of the 30 or so votes usual on such ballots.

Most members of Parliament agreed that even though Attlee still controls three-fourths of his party's members in the House of Commons, he must do something quickly or his authority as party leader is gone. They thought, though, any disciplinary action would stop short of expulsion from the party.

Attlee backed by more than 200 members of the House, had ordered all Socialist members to vote for the Labor amendment expressing lack of confidence in the ability of the Churchill government to carry out the $13,160,000,000 arms program. He told them to abstain from voting on a government motion approving its handling of the plan.

Bevan and his followers, who think the arms program is too big, and some Socialist house members who oppose rearmament on pacifist grounds did just the reverse.

The Socialist amendment was rejected 219-341, with the Bevan group abstaining. As Attlee and his followers abstained, the Bevanites voted against the government motion, which carried 313-55.

Butter Prices Take Spotlight

By The Associated Press

Fast-falling butter prices took the food news spotlight this week. Since last Thursday, butter has dropped 8 to as much as 12 cents a pound in the big-volume retail stores of many cities, reflecting the sharpest reduction in years at the wholesale level. (Declines were smaller in the far West and South.)

The reductions were attributed largely to consumer price resistance. Butter was a four-year high in many sections at the peak last week, selling at around 97 cents a pound in major chains and independents and well over $1 in other stores.

Prices of other important foods showed little overall change at retail this week. A few moderately-sharp declines in beef cuts, particularly roasts, were too scattered to indicate a trend and were attributed to temporary over-supply conditions in a handful of markets.

Egg prices were a little firmer at wholesale as military buying increased and more eggs moved into storage, but retail prices were mostly steady.

On the fresh produce counters, lettuce, onions, carrots, strawberries and tangerines were a little higher, while fresh corn, celery and radishes eased slightly on heavier supplies.

The Agriculture Department listed apples, eggs, broiling and frying chickens, oranges, lettuce and pork as most-plentiful foods for thrifty buying this week.

And prominently mentioned on retailers' lists of specials were: fish fillets of several varieties, round pot roast, fowl, cheese, turkeys, smoked hams, fryers, beef roasts, citrus fruits, cabbage and canned tuna.

Your Income Should Stretch 40 Percent Further Even After Tax

NEW YORK (AP)—Does your income—in terms of real buying power after taxes—stretch 40 per cent farther than it did before World War II?

The answer to that from most people is likely to be a resounding "No!" yet government slide-rule boys say that, despite soaring taxes and prices, incomes per capita in the United States are 40 per cent higher than in 1939, 40 per cent higher than in 1939, 40 per cent higher than in 1939, 40 per cent higher than in 1939.

It seems Mr. A. Per Capita is sitting pretty. But where can you find him? Per capita covers everyone—from the newest-born unemployed infant to his hard-pressed dad struggling to feed the other five sons and daughters; from the panhandler in the street to the richest man in the country.

The notion that incomes stretch farther will find no evidence with retired persons living on a pension, or the return from life savings, or any other form of fixed income. Few persons in white collar jobs will believe it. Nor will the wealthy who have seen their incomes whittled down by higher tax rates in the top brackets.

And the worker who took home a $60 weekly pay check in 1939 to support his wife and two children can find government statistics to show that rising taxes and higher prices on the goods and services his family require make it necessary for him to bring home at least $115 a week now to furnish his family with the same standard of living.

Yet the government statisticians say that per capita incomes have a higher buying power now. Per capita income on the eve of the last war was $536. In 1951 it was $1,443. After reducing taxes and translating the 1951 dollar into terms of what a dollar would buy in 1939, last year's per capita shrinks to $750. Still, that $750 is 40 per cent higher than 1939's per capita income of $536, Washington officials point out.

This may be true for Mr. A. Per Capita, but it seems contrary to so many persons' own experience and memory.

"The reason that this large increase in real incomes seems surprising is that memories are short," says the Northern Trust Company, of Chicago, in its "Business Comments for March," out today.

It points out that 1939 and 1944 per capita real incomes, expressed in terms of fixed buying power, rose sharply. Since 1944 real per capita incomes have actually fallen slightly. In other words, during the war people made more money, while prices were held down. Since the war, prices and taxes have soared—in many cases faster than incomes have increased.

People are acutely conscious of this postwar inflation without remembering the earlier sharp rise which boosted their take-home pay, the bank points out.

There are other reasons, too, for the gain in real incomes, when figured on an impersonal per capita basis, rather than on individual experience.

In 1939 about 35 per cent of the total population of the country for many families, and higher per capita figures.

Another thing people are likely to forget, the Chicago bank suggests, is what people are doing with their money. Since 1944, it says, "on the average, per capita consumption of goods and services has increased 18 per cent in their pockets. Today they have more deep freezers and television sets—and feel harder up for cash."

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT—Sedalia, Mo., Thurs. Mar. 6, 1952 5

savings had dropped sharply. During the war, in other words, people had more cash jingling in their pockets. Today they have more deep freezers and television sets—and feel harder up for cash. This is particularly true just now, with the tax payment deadline weighing on many minds. Incidentally, Mr. A. Per Capita paid $18 in taxes in 1939, and last year he paid $184.

Pres. Truman Appealed to Newbold Morris Not to Quit

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON — The White House has hushed it up, but clean-up man Newbold Morris came within a whisker the other day of packing his bags and going home. He was stopped at the last minute by a personal appeal from President Truman, himself.

The inside story is that Morris, depressed over the runaround he was getting, decided that his assignment was "impossible." He announced his decision to quit at a routine conference with Justice Department officials.

"I'm going home," he declared simply. "This thing hasn't been thought through. For example, I'm supposed to report my investigations to the very man I'm supposed to be investigating."

Morris was referring, of course, to his boss — Attorney General McGrath.

Within a few minutes, however, words of Morris' surprise decision was flashed to the White House, and presidential aide Charlie Murphy was rushed to Morris' office.

Talking fast, Murphy urged the new trouble-shooter to talk it over with President Truman, and promptly hustled him to the White House. Within half an hour, Morris was in the Oval Room conferring earnestly with the President.

Truman begged Morris to stay on, promised him a free hand and guaranteed full White House support.

"You can have anything you want," the President offered. "It was a result of this dramatic, spur-of-the-moment meeting that the President personally appealed to Congress for subpoena power for Morris and moved Morris' headquarters out of the Justice Department into the old Washington Post building."

Senator's Memory Fails

Michigan's tousle-haired Sen. Homer Ferguson would rather ask questions than answer them about the Institute of Pacific Relations.

As a member of the Senate Internal Security Committee, which is trying to prove the I.P.R. is Communist-dominated, Ferguson fumed and snorted at Owen Latimore last week about his association with I.P.R.

At the session's close, Ferguson's lips drew tight, and he snapped: "It's in the record."

"Can't you tell me yourself whether you quit the I.P.R.?" pressed the newsmen.

"I can't remember the exact date," barked the Michigan senator, and he marched out of the room.

Apparently the shoe pinched when it was on the other foot. Note—Ferguson boasted of his membership in the Institute of Pacific Relations as late as the 1950-51 edition of Who's Who in America.

UMT Battle

Blood pressures shot up, cotlars got hot and voices collided sharply as House Republicans wrangled behind closed doors last week over the universal military training bill to draft 18-year-olds.

Congressman Dick Simpson of Pennsylvania, who presided, almost busted his gavel trying to keep tempers from exploding.

Rep. Sterling Cole of New York, a militant UMT advocate, argued that the people favored the youth-training program as an antidote to future wars. Popular polls proved this, said Cole. However, Congressman Dewey Short of Missouri contended that we already were drafting men for war and should not superimpose UMT on top of Selective Service.

"This is another example of the military reaching out for Recently a woman told her husband she had sent his suit to the cleaners.

"Did you go through the pockets before you sent it?" he asked.

"No," came the reply, "I have been going through your pockets ever since we were married and I've never found anything yet, so I just didn't bother."—H.L.

more power," snorted Short. "If UMT is adopted in any form, we'll never be able to repeal it."

Another member of the Armed Services Committee, Rep. William Bates of Massachusetts, said there was nothing in the lengthy testimony before the committee to convince him that UMT was needed.

"On the contrary, it would be a rash step, in my judgment," he said, "to permit the Pentagon to get its foot in the door."

Other Republicans argued that a vote for UMT would be a vote for "more military waste," since combat officers weren't available to carry out a training program for high school graduates even on a token scale.

Rep. James Van Zandt of Pennsylvania, always a walkie-talkie of the Pentagon, warned his colleagues that they would face opposition of the American Legion and "other powerful groups" in the next election if they didn't support the UMT bill.

"The American Legion is for it, and the American people are for it," shouted Van Zandt.

"Nuts," exploded GOP Congressman Paul Shafer of Michigan. "We've been against UMT before and the Legion hasn't defeated us. Besides, the rank-and-file of the Legion isn't making an issue of this. It's only a few national leaders who are lobbying for the Pentagon."

Sen. Connally Subsides

Texas' grumpy Sen. Tom Connally jumped up with fire in his eye the other day to debate Nebraska's drab Sen. Hugh Butler over Alaskan statehood.

They wrangled for five minutes over technicalities. Then Connally thundered: "We are now about to act on a bill to grant statehood to Alaska. I should like to know what the senator has in mind."

"I do not want to see a bill for statehood passed until some of these questions are solved," Butler shot back.

"The senator from Nebraska is not supporting the bill for Alaskan statehood?" asked Connally, surprised.

"No," replied Butler, long an enemy of statehood for Alaska.

"I am glad to hear that," said Connally, much subdued. "I agree with the senator."

And the fire-breathing Texan sat down, saving his thunder for someone debating on the other side.

Messages to Moscow

Here is another poignant example of the messages from American school children which are being beamed behind the Iron Curtain via the Voice of America.

Marjorie Garvin of Mountville High School, Mountville, W. Va., writes as follows:

"I only wish I could take a look behind the so-called 'Iron Curtain,' or talk to a 16-year-old boy or girl who lives in the land that seems so far away. I think it is wonderful that we teen-agers have the right to speak to you and tell you about our land, but I wish you could talk back. . . ."

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The home of G. J. Baughman, 1408 North Osage, was destroyed by fire. None of the contents of the building was saved.

A Ford car, property of Thomas Higgins, stolen from near the Sedalia theater in 1925; was located in Benton County by Sheriff Thomas Province of that county.

A play, "The Pot Boilers," was presented at an entertainment given by Addalla Grotto Friday night by a group of students of Smith-Cotton High School.

H. C. Rutledge, a former instructor in shorthand at Central Business College, in which department he was principal, returned and was to again be on the college staff of instructors. He was to be associated with A. V. Ludwig and A. L. Bohling.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Weather of the December and January type prevailed with the temperature at 20 degrees above zero at 6 a.m. March 6.

James H. McCormick, a Pettis County pioneer and a resident near Sedalia over 80 years, died at his home, two miles east of Valda. Although not enlisted in the army during the Civil War, he served for a time as a member of the militia, or home guards, in this city during the strife.

The Peacock Path

THE STORY: Jim Orth, private detective, posing as a guest at Windover, home of the wealthy stockbroker Marney Cravath, wonders if he is dealing with a "clever" murderer. Two attempts have been made on Cravath's life, both unsuccessful. These were followed by the successful attempt to murder Ames Warburton, Cravath's partner, and then another failure in an attempt to murder Dolly Dumont, wife of Jack Dumont, Cravath's other partner. Three failures in four tries looks to Orth like a lot of bungling. Clever killers do not miff it—or at least not more than once.

XVI

SUPPOSE—wild idea—but suppose the intellect, or intelligence, pitted against us were well, subhuman. It seemed inconceivable, fantastic. Ames Warburton, however, if Ring's eyes hadn't played her tricks, pushed or flung violently over the cliffs by something so dark and swift as to remain unseen. In other words, could it be that we were fighting, not a person, but a thing? And did this great Long Island estate—lush, green and innocuous in broad daylight—harbor something inhuman and hellish that came by darkness to haunt the Peacock Path?

Just there I stiffened suddenly. Two soft but imperative raps had sounded at the door.

I slipped quietly off the bed, opened the door a crack. All my vague imaginations, I guess, had me jittery.

Sally Cravath stood there, in something dark-blue and clingy.

"Open it wider, you dope," she whispered. "What do you think I am, an eel?"

I obeyed mechanically with, I presume, my mouth open.

Sally said, smiling faintly: "Jim, please stop ogling me. And try and keep the wolfright out of your eyes. I had to come for—for help."

I dropped the offensive eyes.

"I should think," I said, "that any girl belonging to a plush establishment like this could afford a pair of mules."

Sally extended a bare foot. She blinked, as if surprised to find that she owned it. "Oh, I must have kicked them off in Uncle Marney's room. And forgot them when I . . . well, flounced out?"

"You've been flouncing?" I said politely.

SHE perched on the bed, drew her knees up, rested a small chin between them. "Don't be so humorous. But I think you'd call it that. Anyhow, I left that stubborn obstinate, pigheaded character in a hurry."

"Take it easy," I said.

"Look, Jim," she said. "I've been in there begging him to go to the police. It's obvious to me—and I know darn well to you too—that we should have called them hours ago. Will you please tell me what he's waiting for after this thing happening to Dolly? A bigger and better murder, maybe?"

"We haven't established one murder yet."

"Oh, nuts. Let's not kid ourselves. Ames was killed and Dolly half-killed. And before that someone tried to get Uncle Marney."

She looked at me steadily, shadows in her big gray eyes. "And anybody who thinks the whole thing is just a series of coincidences ought to have his head read."

Personally, I agreed with her. And I began wondering, a touch disturbedly, about Marston Cravath. Up to a certain point, protecting the family escutcheon against notoriety was laudable.

But beyond that point it became plain stupidity. Unless . . . unless Cravath had a more cogent reason for keeping the law out of this.

"How," I inquired, "was it left with your uncle?"

"Now you," she said, "forget that!" And she was gone.

Wife Doesn't Want Divorce, Says She Was Blackmailed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The wife of a New York radio producer who claims she was starved and blackmailed into getting a divorce, has had the action set aside.

Mrs. Virginia T. Dunning, 39, wrote Superior Judge Frederick F. Houser that before she obtained the divorce here Jan. 30 from Harlan J. Dunning, 40, he had not provided for food and housing and she felt if she didn't get it "I would find myself without food or shelter for the boy and myself again." The old, that was purchased by J. T. Ernest, Fort Gibson, Okla.

The Rev. C. V. Criss, district superintendent of the Methodist Church, was in Warsaw conducting a series of revival meetings.

LITTLE LIZ

A best seller is a book with a shapely woman on the jacket, but no jacket on the woman.

Sally's lips thinned to a firm red line. "I issued an ultimatum. I've given him tonight to think it over. Then, if he doesn't come to his senses, I'm calling the police myself."

"What did he say?" She gave me a wry smile. "And he said it all with his top blown. He bawled me out for 10 minutes straight and never stopped for breath."

"Listen," I said, "you picked a bad night for ultimatums, that's all. Your uncle's upset and I don't blame him. It was pretty rugged out there, with Mrs. Dumont."

"Oh!" Her voice hardened. "My uncle's upset, is he? Well, what about Ames . . . and Dolly? Himself too, for that matter?"

"Okay," I said soothingly. "But where do I come in?"

She hugged her knees. "I'd like it if you went to Uncle Marney in the morning, when he's cooled off, and tried to knock some sense into his head. After all, Jim, it's up to him to call the police. He's the head of this house. It's going to look very funny to the police and—everybody else, if his niece has to send for them."

I AROSE then, stood facing her. There was, between us, about two feet of floor space. "Okay. It'll probably cost me my job, but I'll make your uncle a few polite suggestions."

Sally let a moment pass. Then, quite softly, "Did anybody ever tell you, Jim Orth, that you're a very nice guy?"

"Forget it," I said, catching hold of myself. "And go to bed."

Her face, a kind of lovely mask, was tilted toward me. Her lips were red, slightly parted. I lost hold. I burned up that two feet of floor space. Then, blue flowing thing and all, she was in my arms. For a moment, operations in the universe were suspended.

An awfully short moment, though. She pushed me away, gently. The slap she gave my forehead wasn't so gentle. It smarted.

"Now you," she said, "forget that!" And she was gone.

A SALUTE To Our 4-H CLUBS

During the month of March we observe

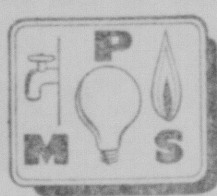

National 4-H Club Week.

Into the hands of these 4-H boys and girls will one day be handed the heritage of the productive land of America. It is they and their care of this land which will pretty much determine the kind of country their children and all the children of the nation will one day inherit.

They bear this responsibility with studied determination as future leaders of America's agriculture.

Their leaders and 4-H Club projects prepare them for the time when they will be producing much of America's internal strength in the form of food production and advanced rural thinking.

The men and women of the Missouri Public Service Company salute this outstanding organization of farm youth. It has been our pleasure to participate in 4-H Club work by sponsoring the Missouri State 4-H Club Leaders Conference at Knob Noster and we look forward to this year's conference.

Crowd Stones Negro's Home, Vet Unafraid

SAN PABLO, Calif. (AP)—Negro contractor Wilbur Gary's family was established today in their new home in a previously all-white district, undismayed by taunting, stone-throwing neighbors.

The 42-year-old war veteran, his wife and seven children ignored a hostile crowd of 150 that gathered around his $8,700 home, jeered and threw stones last night.

The crowd was dispersed by Contra Costa County Sheriff James Long and 20 deputies. Long said two two-man patrol cars would watch the home "until further notice."

Some 50 persons friendly to Gary also assembled on his lawn. They faced the crowd protesting his moving into Rollingwood Tract, just south of San Pablo and 15 miles across the bay from San Francisco.

Leading the friendly group was the Rev. Fred H. Busher, pastor of a Richmond Methodist church. He planted an American flag on the road in front of Gary's home and began reciting the Declaration of Independence.

He was immediately interrupted by jeers, catcalls and boos. "What are you sticking up for the black man for?" one man shouted.

Sheriff Long then appeared, told the crowd it was assembled unlawfully and ordered both groups to disband.

"I'm going to be here all night, so they'll be protected," Long said. The fuss outside his home did not appear to upset Gary, a vice-commander in an Oakland American Legion post.

"We don't scare easily. I'm still going to stay," he said.

Woman to Count Cars To Pay Traffic Fine

CHICAGO (AP)—Cold weather yesterday delayed a fur-coated suburban matron from paying her traffic fine by standing at an intersection and counting passing automobiles.

Mrs. Evelyn Mancou, 39, of Highland Park, had agreed to make the traffic survey in lieu of a $10 fine for speeding. She said she'd rather go to jail than pay the fine, insisting she was innocent.

Police Chief Walter Yacke of suburban Kenilworth decided it was too cold and postponed the survey until Monday.

Regular Seasons Nearly Over, Still Nine Bids Left for NCAA

Only 7 Teams Have Been Selected For Four-City Tourney

NEW YORK (AP)—The regular season action among the college basketball teams is practically over and only seven of the 16 teams which will play in the NCAA tournament had been decided today.

Kentucky, Illinois, Texas Christian, St. Louis and Wyoming, all champions of their conferences, are in, along with Santa Clara and Oklahoma City University, two western at-large teams.

That leaves nine selections still to be made for the tournament which begins in four days at March 21. Four of them will be at-large bids, while the winners of the Ivy League, Southern Conference, Border Conference, Big Seven and Pacific Coast Conference remain to be settled.

Kentucky, the Southern Conference champion and two-at-large teams will start play in Raleigh, N. C. in action at Chicago will be Illinois, the Ivy League titleholder and the other two teams selected at-large in the east.

The Western Regional play will start at Kansas City and Corvallis, Ore. At Kansas City will be Texas Christian, St. Louis and the Big Seven and Border Conference champions. The Pacific Coast Conference and Skyline winners will meet Santa Clara and Oklahoma City, selected at large, at Corvallis.

The semi-final and final rounds will be played at Seattle March 25-26.

The Ivy League is deadlocked among Cornell, Princeton and Penn all with 9-1. The Southern Conference winner will be decided at the end of its tournament starting today.

In the Border Conference, West Texas State and New Mexico A. and M. are tied with 12-2 and are in a playoff tomorrow. The Big Seven race also probably will be settled tomorrow when Kansas and Kansas State, each boasting 9-1 records, clash in Lawrence.

The two-out-of-three scramble for the right to represent the Pacific Coast Conference gets under way tomorrow with Northern Division winner Washington playing U. C. L. and Southern Division victor, Oregon State.

The remaining four at-large teams probably won't be determined until the end of the National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden. Some of the top prospects are Penn State, Duquesne, Boston College, Holy Cross and Loyola of Chicago. Duquesne and Holy Cross are in the NIT, and Holy Cross is in the NIT, which opens Monday at Kansas City, Indiana State, the 1951 winner, again qualified by beating Indiana Central last night 66-55.

Millikin also qualified by upsetting previously unbeaten Eastern Illinois, 74-71. Clarion (Pa.) Tech, unbeaten in 19 games, tipped Millersville 50-49 for the right to represent Pennsylvania while Whitworth, unalloyed Gonzaga 90-65.

There were several upsets last night. Manhattan took Fordham 64-56; Syracuse upended Penn 94-76; Niagara surprised Colgate in overtime 68-66 and Tufts downed Harvard 79-76. In other games Wyoming beat Colorado A. & M. 89-57 and East Tennessee won the Smoky Mountain Tourney by beating Union (Ky) 56-47.

AAUW Favors Full Allowance Of School Fund

Bill 496, especially the section on education, was thoroughly discussed at the American Association of University Women held Monday night at the home of Mrs. Singleton Ray.

This bill includes the surplus in the state treasury of $14 million, which is an accumulation of funds and does not mean an increase in taxes, to go to the public schools of Missouri. This bill was passed by the House, but the amount was cut by the Senate.

Members of the AAUW favor the bill's original appropriation and will write letters to the senators in the state legislature stating their desire to have the original bill passed, according to a decision of the group Monday night.

The speaker of the evening was Miss Lena Rhue of Jefferson City, consultant in the state welfare department. Miss Rhue talked on "Child Welfare."

Mrs. P. A. Sillers, president, presided over the meeting.

MU Tigers Believe KU Will Win; Pick All-Opponent Team

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—University of Missouri basketball players—they've been beaten by both—think Kansas will beat Kansas State when the Jayhawkers and Wildcats meet at Lawrence tomorrow night.

Bill Callahan, M.U. publicity representative, asked the question of the Tiger players as he took a poll of their selections for an all-opponent team. The vote was 11 to 3 in favor of Kansas, with the Missouri players noting the advantage of playing on the home court and declaring that they thought the Kansas team had improved considerably during the past two weeks.

The Tigers picked their two All-American opponents, Clyde Lovellette of Iowa, for berths in their all-opponent outfit. Lovellette was the only unanimous choice, with 14 votes. Darling and Dick Knostman of Kansas State each got 12 votes, and the other two spots went to Jim Iverson of Kansas State with 19, and Jim Buchanan of Nebraska, with nine.

LaMotta Draws, Won't Hang Up His Gloves, Yet

DETROIT (AP)—Jake LaMotta, the former middleweight champion, won't have to hang up his boxing gloves.

The 30-year-old fighter, showing the strain of 12 years campaigning in the professional ring, won a 10-round draw with up-and-coming Eugene Hairston last night. Some thought the Bronx Bull was pretty lucky at that.

On the eve of the bout, LaMotta let it be known he would retire for good if the 23-year-old Hairston beat him decisively.

Now LaMotta says he is going to keep on fighting. He wants a shot at Joe Maxim's light heavyweight title.

LaMotta's tactic of putting on a dazzling flurry at the end of each round paid off. Both judges scored it as an even 50 points for each boxer.

Referee Morris Sherman gave the verdict to Hairston by a 52-48 margin. Under Michigan rules the majority decision made it a draw.

Protesting the decision, Hairston's manager, Mike Miele, belatedly:

"Hairston forces the fight all the way. LaMotta fights only in spurts at the end of each round. There's no justice to the way they score here."

LaMotta weighed 168½, a 7½-pound advantage over Hairston.

Summer to Play Hubbard Friday Afternoon at 3

The Summer High School of Kansas City is coming to Sedalia Friday to meet the C. C. Hubbard High School Tigers in the final game of the season for the Sedalians. The game is to be played on the Hubbard court at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Tigers are hoping for a victory over the strong Summer school in this final 1951-52 contest.

Last week the Tigers defeated Douglas High School of Lexington, 36 to 31, and once before, earlier in the season, the Sedalians defeated Douglas by a five-point margin.

At the halftime period there will be a baton twirling exhibition by Janie McFerrin and Doris Wyatt.

The Tigers lose three players from the squad at the end of this season, Carl "Big" Whitney, who completed school at the end of the first semester, Floyd Pans and William Everage.

Freshman Wins Berth on Valley All-Star Team

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Cleo Littleton of Wichita became the first freshman ever to win a first-team position on the Associated Press' All-Missouri Valley Conference basketball squad. The all-star selections were announced today.

The 6-foot-3, 18-year-old Negro who averaged 18.8 points-per-game in Valley play this season, joined three seniors and a sophomore on the first team chosen in a poll of Valley experts—the sports editors and sportswriters who have seen the teams in action.

Littleton, a member of a last place team, and Don Johnson of Oklahoma A. & M., a repeater from the 1951 team, make up the first-team forwards. Norm Swanson of Detroit University is at center, and Ray Steiner of St. Louis University and Dick Nunley, Tulsa sophomore, are at the guards.

Steiner, named to the Associated Press All-America third team yesterday, was the only unanimous selection. He placed on every one of the first-team ballots.

Wilber, Philly Catcher, Come A Long Way

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Three years ago he was a minor league manager, his brief and profitless career behind him. Today Delbert Wilber is the first-string catcher for the Philadelphia Phillies' knee-deep pitching staff, believed by many to be the best in baseball.

That's the Horatio Alger story of this resolute receiver who refused to heed the advice of the St. Louis Cardinal front office when it told him to forsake the playing end for a career as pilot. This is the same person who returned unheralded from the minors last year and proceeded to win the No. 1 catching job away from Andy Seminick, long a fixture with the Phils.

"You'll never be anything but a third-stringer, even if you should ever come back," Del was told by Cardinal Manager Eddie Dyer.

"You've got to make up your mind whether you want the glory of the big league or the security of a job in the Card organization."

Trojan Horse In Europe---3rd of Series-- Easy to Spot Moscow Line Leading to Italy Labor Union

EDITOR'S NOTE: Italy is a key point in the Kremlin's efforts to fashion a fifth-column noose around Western Europe. How the Communists are moving there, using trade unions wherever they can, is described here by William L. Ryan, Russian-speaking analyst of The Associated Press foreign staff. On a tour of Europe, Ryan gave the overall picture in two dispatches from Vienna, printed earlier this week. Today, in his third article, he shows how the transmission belt reaches into an individual country.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
ROME (P) — The Communists evidently are organizing furiously in Italy to build their Trojan Horse, Moscow's 1952 version of the storied steed that broke the defenses of ancient Troy.

The chain of command from Cominform through the World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU) and into Italian labor is easily discernible.

Italian non-Communist political leaders profess to discount its importance, but the foreigners in Rome do not. In fact, they are watching the situation most carefully.

The Communists, in control of the biggest labor federation, the General Confederation of Italian Labor (GCIL), have imposed a high level, hard core command over the unions, and the command is organized down to the factory level.

Giuseppe di Vittorio, a Moscow-trained Communist who shuttles back and forth to Vienna WFTU headquarters, has installed in each factory what he calls a "peace committee." This committee is the cell through which the Communists will exercise their control when and if the chips are down. Di Vittorio imposed these committees against the will of many in the unions themselves, and the order which created the committees some time ago had the tone of a military command.

Foreign observers in Rome have little doubt these committees are the "action committees" of the future, ready to react swiftly in the event of crisis. The label "peace committee" clearly shows the influence of the Cominform and the WFTU.

The GCIL is one of three major labor organizations in Italy, and by far the strongest. It claims more than five million members, although a more accurate figure probably would be 3½ million. The non-Communist unions are represented by the Confederation of Italian Trade Unions, claiming more than two million members but probably having only 1,400,000, and the UIL, the United Italian Labor, with 400,000 members, mostly Socialists.

Italian government leaders are certain a large percentage of Italy's Communists are Communists of opportunity only, and a big part of the membership of the GCIL would be unreliable for the Communists in the event of a showdown.

But the Communists already have shown they can paralyze Italy with this organization. In 1948, after the attempt on the life of Communist boss Palmiro Togliatti, they staged a general strike. The GCIL has not been interfering with the unloading of military supplies in Italy from the United States, ever since the Communist attempts to do so in Naples failed. They are up against the hard fact that Italians need jobs and will frequently throw politics overboard in favor of bread. But the Communists are organizing carefully, down to the level of the lowest worker.

One instance of the careful organizations is in the machinery set up by the GCIL to grant loans without interest to workers in desperate need of money, a gesture the Italian worker understands. Di Vittorio is a clever psychologist and knows his people well.

There is some indication that Di Vittorio sometimes chafes under the Cominform's discipline, and possibly his position would not be so secure if the Communist party itself had more actual strength. While the party has two million members, the hard core probably is in the area of 100,000 trusted, hard-bitten Stalinists.

NEW TWIST TO AN OLD WRINKLE—Now it's men in beauty salons getting their faces "lifted." In West Berlin, Germany, a male patron prepares to undergo treatment aimed at removing facial wrinkles. The new wrinkle-removing machine, called the "Nemetron," is supposed to rejuvenate worn-out muscles under the skin by "scientifically-controlled electrical impulses."

6 Sabres Vie With 22 MIGs, Destroy One

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — American Sabre jets destroyed a Communist MIG and damaged another today in a 10-minute battle. The dogfight ranged as far south as the North Korean capital, Pyongyang, just 70 miles north of Parallel 38. Six Sabres mixed with 22 MIGs.

On the ground, hit-and-run Allied raiders killed 40 Communists and wounded 30 in four firefights west of the Mundung Valley in Eastern Korea.

U. N. artillery and infantrymen pinched off a Chinese Communist attack near the old Iron Triangle on the Central Front Thursday morning.

About 160 Reds opened fire on an advanced U. N. position near the Kumhwa-Kumsong Road about midnight. The Reds were hurled back after one hour and 15 minute fight.

The Reds are showing increased interest in the road to Kumsong, battered former Communist supply hub.

Allied pilots found good weather over Northwestern Korea Thursday morning, and went out force bombing Red railroads and highways, supply dumps and troop positions.

Wednesday night fighter-bombers reported two locomotives, 30 box cars and 57 trucks destroyed. B-29 Superforts hit the Communist front lines and the Hamhung rail yards.

Marine fighters from the U. S. Carrier Bairoko attacked Red trains, supply centers and troop positions on Korea's west coast Wednesday.

In Washington Wednesday the Defense Department reported 306 more American casualties in Korea since last week. The total for the war is 106,298. The new figures include 67 dead, 233 wounded and six missing in action.

19 Dog Poisonings Stir Warsaw Wrath

WARSAW, Mo., — The death toll in Warsaw's dog poisoning wave has reached 19 and Harry Hankins, city marshal, was busy burying pets and fine sporting dogs.

Apparently, the animals have died from eating poisoned foods scattered around the town and seldom has this Osage river community been so aroused.

Some citizens are offering rewards for information on the deaths.

For example, James Atkins, rural mail carrier, has offered a $50 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person who poisoned his two registered Brittany spaniels, valued at $100 each.

The Brittans, a breed of hunting dogs which originated in France, were the first hunting dogs of their kind in Benton County.

To Feed Argentines Before Sending Exports

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — President Juan Peron says Argentina will be fed before exports are sent abroad. But he pleaded in a nation-wide broadcast last night for support of his austerity program and for greater production.

Amplifying his Feb. 18 address, when he decreed meatless days, he said, "We do not ask useless sacrifice."

If you buy wool fabric that isn't pre-shrunk, it's wise to have it steam-pressed to shrink it before cutting out a garment.

Political Round-Up—Oratory Echoes Across N. H. Hills as Primary Vote Nears

By The Associated Press
Political oratory echoed across New Hampshire's snow-covered hills today in hand-shaking, meet the people, answer the questions campaigns.

The Republican and Democratic races each appeared to be a contest between a man working hard for the presidency and one who hasn't said he wants the job.

The Republican choice seemed narrowed to Sen. Robert A. Taft, who arrives in New Hampshire today in earnest quest of the nomination, and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who says he won't seek it but will accept if nominated.

On the Democratic side, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee was fighting what he calls an uphill battle against supporters of President Truman. The President has not announced whether he wants another term.

The results of the New Hampshire primary election next Tuesday are not binding on convention delegates. But since it is the first presidential primary of the year, great psychological value is attached to its outcome.

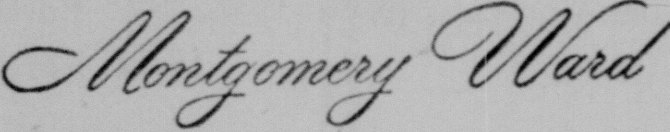

The latest happenings in the national campaign:

Arab Cominform Bureau May Be Set Up In Beirut

BEIRUT (AP) — Rumors that a Cominform bureau may be established in Beirut have appeared in the Lebanese press. The story, which originated in the Turkish daily Juhuriyet is taken seriously here because of many already existing evidences of well-organized left-wing activity in Lebanon.

According to the Juhuriyet story, Beirut is slated to become Cominform headquarters for the Arab world. Branch centers would be organized in Cairo, Ismailia, Alexandria, Damascus and other strategic cities. Instructions for the Lebanese headquarters would arrive by diplomatic pouch and would be circulated to the branch centers from Beirut.

One of 150 Cars Lost In River Salvaged; But It's Full of Sand

COLCONDA, Ill. (AP)—Hampered by ice, flood waters and swift currents, salvage workers finally have succeeded in reclaiming one of the 150 new cars which sank on a barge in the Mississippi River last December.

Divers attached slings to one of the automobiles yesterday and the car was hauled to shore—a battered, sand-filled sedan.

The river fell to a stage of 17 feet yesterday, leaving one corner of the barge above water as divers hacked a hole in the deck.

Some 100 automobiles remain the barge.

The other 50 were swept off the barge during the storm which sank the craft, and have not been located.

Representatives of the insurance company directing the salvage work said the operation would be postponed until the river recedes to a still lower stage.

Put a layer of the pudding in a mold (5-lb. cheese box lined with waxed paper with an ideal mold) and sprinkle with finely chopped nut meats. Color remaining part pink or any color or as many colors as you wish, sprinkling each layer with nuts. Keep in cold place until ready to serve. Serve with whipped cream and a few nuts sprinkled on top.
This is really a nice dessert and inexpensive to serve large groups.

BROWN BEEF STEW

Mrs. Harvey Eichholz
La Monte
2 to 2½ Lbs. stew meat.
3 Tablespoons suet or other fat.
¼ Cup flour.
1½ Teaspoon salt.
1½ Teaspoon pepper.
1½ to 2 Cups water, or enough to cover meat.
3 Tablespoons butter.
6 Small onions.
6 Small quartered carrots.
3 Medium sized potatoes.
Have meat cut in cubes or squares and roll in the flour mixed with salt and pepper. Heat suet or fat in heavy skillet and brown meat on all sides. Transfer to kettle with tight cover and water and cook slowly two hours, then add vegetables which have been sautéed in the butter, and continue to cook until all are tender, about 45 minutes. A thickening may be added the last few minutes if desired.

BEST TOMATO CATSUP

Mrs. J. H. Gwinn
1908 South Park
1 Cup white vinegar.
1½ Teaspoons whole cloves.
1½ Teaspoons broken stick cinnamon.
1 Teaspoon celery seed.
8 Pounds ripe tomatoes (25 medium sized tomatoes).
1 Tablespoon chopped onion.
¼ Teaspoon red pepper.
1 Cup sugar.
4 Teaspoons salt.
Measure spices into sauce pan and add white vinegar. Heat to boiling point, remove from heat and let stand until tomato mixture is ready.
Put tomatoes in kettle, mash and add chopped onion and red pepper. (Measure red pepper carefully as the red pepper makes a difference in flavor.) Cook tomato mixture for 15 minutes, then put through a sieve. Cook this pulp down to one-half the amount, 45 to 60 minutes over low heat. Strain the vinegar into tomato pulp. Do not reheat vinegar and spices as the flavor is in the vinegar. Discard the spices. Add the salt when you put the vinegar in simmer till the mixture is the right consistency. Seal hot. Add sugar to tomato pulp when you start to cook it down.

FRENCH FEAR RED DRIVE IN INDO-CHINA—Newsmag above shows critical situation in Indo-China, where Viet Minh Communists are advancing at a rate imperiling the whole French position in the north to the point where the defenders may have to make a major withdrawal. Most grave recent setback was loss of the fortress city of Hoa Binh, necessitating a "last ditch" defense ring around Hanoi and its port Haiphong. With Chinese Red troops massed on Indo-China's northern border, French fear a Korea-type invasion, possible through an "end run" through Thailand to attack Cambodia and Cochinchina.

guests Thursday of Mrs. Brown were Mrs. Billy Deck and daughter, Martha Frances.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shaw narrowly escaped injury last Saturday when they were hit by an oncoming car as they were leaving Smithton. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw had been to Smithton to vote on the school bonds and were returning home.

Mrs. Myrtle Thomas, who has been ill with the influenza, is improved.

The community play drew a large crowd Monday night and the Negro minstrels, "Borrowin' Neighbors" by the adults, was judged the best. It will be given in the county-wide contest. Prosecuting Attorney Mike Bogutski judged the plays.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Olive Branch Church held its home mission study course at the church all day Wednesday. They enjoyed a school girl lunch together at noon. Mrs.

Hansen taught the book, "Crusade in Home Missions" by Courts Redford.

Plumber Marries His 17th Wife Today, He Claims

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—El Paso's marrying plumber, 72-year-old Bruce Steele, has a new wife—his 17th, he says.

She is Mrs. Estelle Lloyd of El Paso. They were married last month in Deming, N. M.

"Yes, Estelle is No. 17," Steele said proudly. "I've been married 17 times to 14 women. I wanted to set a record and I guess I have."

The gray-haired plumber said his matrimonial merry-go-round began in 1911.

"I was a boxer traveling with a show and I met a girl named Mary," he said. "Yes, Mary was the first. I moved on and she got a divorce. After that, I wooed and won girls in other towns but I had to keep moving so the marriages didn't last. I believe Ruth—she was a platinum blonde—was next. Then there was Catherine and Rose and Peggy—she was the chorus girl—and Goldie and Annie and Rose again and Nellie and Fannie and Frances. There must be a few more but their names slip my mind just now."

"Frances—she was redheaded—was killed in an automobile accident last summer at Salt Flat, Tex. I married Nellie twice and Fannie three times. They come and go. Some are dead, some divorced and some still living."

Children?

"I've got 31 children—24 boys and seven girls," said Steele. "Estelle has a little boy of her own so that gives us 25 boys. Seven of the children live with us."

Steele attributes his success in getting wives not to his good looks but to his method.

"The trick is to find a woman's weakness," he confided. "Then cultivate it. Some women like travel—so I suggest travel. Others like art and music, so I talk culture in a big way."

"Find their weakness and play up to it—that's the way to be a good 'Romeo'."

Chinese Red Learns To Play Ball Fast—With Hand Grenades

WITH U. S. 40TH DIVISION, Korea (AP)—A Chinese Communist learned fast how to play baseball—with hand grenades.

Fortieth Division infantrymen caught him slipping through barbed wire. They started pitching grenades.

To their surprise, the Communist stood up and batted the grenades down hill with a large plank. After half a dozen safe hits, the batter darted away.

"He was one batter who couldn't afford to strike out," said Sgt. Finn Askildsen of San Bernardino, Calif.
